Exemptions for Medicaid Work Requirements

If you are NOT in Group VIII, you do not have to meet these work requirements.

If you are in Group VIII, you may qualify for an exemption, meaning you do not have to meet these requirements.

If you are in Group VIII, but:

- You are a current or former foster child under age 26
- You are a parent, guardian, caretaker relative, or family caregiver of either:
 - A dependent child age 13 or younger, or
 - A disabled individual (including someone in another household, if you provide significant care)
- You are a veteran who is rated 100% disabled because of a service-connected condition
- You have a physical or mental health condition that keeps you from working or participating in other activities. This includes:
 - Blindness or disability as defined by the SSA
 - A substance use disorder
 - A disabling mental disorder
 - A physical, intellectual, or developmental disability that significantly limits activities of daily living
 - A serious or complex medical condition
- You are meeting SNAP or OWF work requirements
- You are participating in a drug or alcohol treatment program
- You are incarcerated or have been recently released
- You are pregnant or are in your 12-month postpartum period
- You are entitled to or have Medicare Part A
- You have Medicare Part B

...you are exempt and do not have to meet work requirements.

However, you must provide documentation showing you meet an exemption, or your benefits will end or be denied.
