

The Stark County Health Department is offering the food safety training, ServSafe Manager. ServSafe, from The Educational Foundation of the National Restaurant Association, is recognized by health departments across the country as the “industry standard” and as THE course to certify food handlers. During this two day interactive class, participants will learn about the following:

- Providing Safe Food
- Foodborne Illnesses
- Safe Cooking, Cooling and Reheating
- Cleaning and Sanitizing
- Food Safety Regulations

Those who complete the two day class and pass the exam will receive a ServSafe Manager completion certificate from The Educational Foundation of the National Restaurant Association and a Ohio Manager Certification in Food Protection from the Ohio Department of Health. This course meets the requirements of the Ohio Uniform Safety Code Manager Certification per code 3717-1-02.4(A)(2).

Please contact the Food Clerk at 330-451-1461 with any questions.

Please register early, the class size is limited.
